NORWAY AND VICINITY.

A flock of crow blackbirds visited the Falls, Saturday. More than fifty were counted in Horace Cole's pasture at one time.

Mrs. Charles Bassinett of Fair street returned to her home, Saturday. Mrs. Bassinett has been at the St. Marie's hospital, Lewiston, the past month, having undergone a critical operation.

Seth McAllister, formerly watchman at the shoe factory, who came from the Central Maine General hospital three weeks ago made his first appearance on the street last Tuesday. He was operated on for stomach trouble. He looks feeble but is improving.

George F. Stone is planning to finish off the chambers in his house and make other improvements this summer. His buildings were ba ly injured by fire when the Andrews' house and stable were burned. They partially repaired the house last fall so they could live there last winter.

Col. M. W. Sampson, who is at Upper Dam with Freeland Howe, says they were high lined with big fish one day the past week, Mr. Howe catching one that weighed 5½ pounds. Up to now it has been cold and windy but they have been getting a few fish right along and having a good time.

John A. Woodman has sold his mare, "Kettle Bail, 2.04½." The trade was made by O. M. Cummings and the horse was sold, or nearly sold, three times in 24 hours. F. Q. Elliott, Chester Tarbox of Harrison and Fred Rowe were the buying parties. Mr. Rowe took the horse Thursday afternoon. O. M. Cummings has bought the wagon, harness and sleigh and Mr. Woodman is all out of a team.

The members of the Sophomore class, N. H. S., taking part in the Medal Contest to be held at Norway Opera House, Friday evening, May 13th, are:—Cecil Brown, Francis Swett, Donald Welch, Carroll Bartlett, Hazel Groves, Marjorie Barker, Bernice Nash, Hazel Bicknell, Beryl Knight, Hazel White, Ava Watson, Ora Howe and Helen Bangs. The music will be by the 7th, 8th and 9th grades and the drill by the Freshman young ladies.

Harold E. Stuart, the son of T. G. Stuart, formerly of this town, stopped at the Beal's Hotel last Tuesday. It has been some 12 or 14 years since he was here. He came here from Montreal with his parents when 13 years of age and lived here some four years. He has been in Boston for the past 25 years. He renewed many acquaintances in the short time here and visited the woolen mills at Oxford. He sells dye stuff for a Boston firm. He reports that his sister Nellie died some five years ago. She left one son who is now about 21 years of age.

A movement is on foot to re-organize the Norway Fish & Game Association which has been sleeping for some years past. It is hoped that sufficient interest will be manifested to have it a success. It seems that the proper persons to lead off in the matter are the ones directly interested in the lake and the cottages. There is no question but the citizens are willing to take hold and assist. There is much that can be done for the benefit of the community in this line. W. L. Libby is agitating the matter and we feel he will succeed.

Pat Woodman, John A. Woodman's Airdale, went to the cottage by Lake Pennesseewassee with his master and mistress. He did not know hardly what to make of their staying so long, but he concluded he would make the best of it for a while. Finally after about a week, one morning at seven o'clock Pat was seen trotting down Main street in the village taking in all the sights. It was supposed he had concluded to return to the Beal's Hotel, that had been his home in Norway since his residence here. But when he came to Deering street he went directly to his friend's, Bruce Jones' residence. Bruce is Dr. H. P. Jones' dog. Soon Pat and Bruce were seen going down past the Beal's Hotel without looking at the house, happy in the enjoyment of each other's society. They were evidently taking a day off.

Norway Municipal Court.

WM. F. JONES, JUDGE.

State vs. Josiah M. Estes, intoxication, Bethel; arrest by Deputy James M. Day; prior conviction for same offence brought forward. Pleaded guilty. Sentenced to thirty days in jail. Committed.

N. H. S., 12; P. H. S., 0.

N. H. S. trimmed P. H S on their own grounds at South Paris, Tuesday afternoon. The game was one sided, but there was good playing on both sides. Easson made a grand catch in right field and also Kimball's catch of a liner at short stop; also Partridge and Barker each caught two hard fouls outside of the lines. They did not seem to hit Stevens as hard as usual, but the Norway boys found Lowell's ally and everlastingly hammered him. The Norway girls were right there strong to help win the game with their cheering.

Remember the game Saturday afternoon will be between Norway High and Mechanic Falls High at the Fair Grounds A good game is assured.

Base Ball Notes.

The Norway Base Ball Association will open the season on the Fair grounds, Saturday, May 21, with the strong Mohawk team of Portland which played such an interesting series of games here last season. The line-up of the home team will be: Leith, pitcher; McDaniels, catcher; Bearce, first base; Clason, second base; Harrison, short stop; True, third base; LaFrance, left field; Farnum, center field; Young, right field; Partridge and Haskell, substitutes. These players need no introduction to the local fans; suffice to say that they are able to make it interesting for any team that will play here this summer. Should the weather be fair on the 21st a big crowd will be on hand to give the team a good send off. Certainly no better attraction than the Mohawks could have been secured for an opener.

Pansy Walker is visiting in Lynn, Mass.

The Odd Fellows have decided to build two stories on their block on Main street. The third story to be used as a hall; the second story to be rented as a municipal court room, a telephone office and offices. The work will begin at once.

An Old Printer Called Home.

George L. Gallishan died at the Auburn city farm last Sunday. He was an old-time printer and tourist. He made headquarters for many years at Augusta and worked in all of the offices of that city. In later years he worked the greater portion of the time for Knowlton, McLary & Co. of Farmington, which place he claimed as his home. He took annual excursions through the country, working a few weeks in a place.

This year he came just before the town meeting rush and worked about one week and was taken sick. Leaving here to go to Farmington, he got as far as Auburn with the results as stated above.

George L. Gallishan was born in Andover, Mass., at 7:30 a. m. May 28, 1835. He was of a family of six children, all of whom grew up. He learned the printers' trade in that town and before 19 years of age he went to New Orleans, where he resided and worked at "Art Preservative" for 20 odd years. During the war he was in the South and many interesting stories relative to it he has related to us. While in that city he married Lizzie Percival, a girl of good family and standing though of the tender age of 17 years. She died six weeks after marriage with yellow fever. In 1888 in Augusta he married Eva Allen and a daughter was born to them May 20, 1901, who is living.

Our Church Fair.

Etta Noyes is sick with appendicitis. She was taken Friday, but the first of the week it grew worse. Because of the state of her health the doctor does not think an operation advisable at present.

C. B. Cummings & Sons have about a half million of logs, mostly pine, in Lake Pennesseewassee. The logs will be taken down the lake to the upper mill and manufactured into lumber for various purposes.

Mr. and Mrs. Alonzo H. Heath have bought back their old homestead farm in Greenwood and will move to it at once. Mr. and Mrs. Heath have lived for some time with their son, Timothy Heath, on lower Main street.

Mrs. Effie Persons, who has been in Norway several months with June Smith, the forelady in the shoe factory stitching room, has gone to her home in Concord, N. H. Mrs. Persons' health is poor and she expects to be benefitted by rest and medical treatment.

Mr. and Mrs. H. Price Webber closed their theatrical season, Monday night, at Boothbay Harbor and are now at their home in Augusta, where they will rest till September. This was Mr. Webber's 35th season and he says it was a good one. His circuit included Nova Scotia, New Brunswick, Prince Edwards Island and New England.

Mrs. Lila A. Cobb and son Benjamin were called to Portland, Monday, on account of the death of his grandmother, Mrs. Susan Cobb. Mrs. Cobb has been staying with her daughter, Mrs. Henry Sands, since the death of her son, Isaac Cobb. Mrs. Cobb has been confined to her bed since December. She was a member of the M. E. church of Norway.

The final number of the Star Course will be given at the Opera House on Wednesday, May 25th. The Apollo Male Quartette, one of the best in Boston, will sing. The Boston Carnival Company will unite their entertainment with the quartette and will be assisted in it by George B. Cutler, a singing humorist of national reputation and popularity. This will be by far the best entertainment of the course.

The May Day ball at Grange hall, Monday evening, was largely attended, in fact so many that they could not all dance at one time. There were about 80 couples present. The music was by an orchestra of five pieces—Mellie Dunham, violin; Herbert Hosmer, violin; Nathan Noble, cello; Dennis Pike, drums; and Mrs. Archie Fretchettii, piano. Those who attended say they furnished excellent dance music. There was a fine supper of hot rolls, salads and baked beans with the usual amount of added fixings that the Grangers always have on their tables at their suppers. Ice cream, cake and coffee were served at intermission. They realized $52 from the dance, supper and ice cream.

A number from this place attended the May ball at Norway, May 2. A fine time was reported.

Bertha Needham and Emogene Hunt walked down to the Center to church, Sunday, a distance of three miles. This shows that they have an interest in the church work.

The Noble's Corner base ball team will give a dance at Cole's hall, Saturday night, May 7. They also will have a ball game in the afternoon of the same day with the High school team. They will play in F. Q Elliott's field.

SOUTH PARIS.

Harold Briggs has bought a pointer pup of Grant Royal.

Prof. F. D. Tubbs of Bates college lectured on Halley's comet at New hall, Friday evening. He thinks when the comet reaches the right point in its orbit we shall pass through the tail provided the tail is long enough. A reasonable estimate of the amount of matter we may pick up when passing the tail of the comet is one pound. The best time to see the comet in the morning is about this time. It is a little north of Venus, rising about two hours ahead of the sun and may be seen with the naked eye if the sky is clear. After it passes between us and the sun, about three weeks later, it will be visible in the evening sky and will be a striking spectacle. The comet was last seen in May, 1836. The tail of a comet always turns away from the sun. We have struck many a comet. The result is seen in an unusual number of shooting stars which are almost invariably converted to fine dust in the atmosphere before they reach the surface of the earth. The lecture was under the auspices of the High School Athletic Association.

At the annual meeting of the Woman's Mission circle of the Baptist church the following officers were elected:

Pres.—Mrs. L. C. Morton.
V. Pres.—Mrs. Wm. Morse.
Sec.-Treas.—Mrs. W. B. Edwards.
Program Com. for Foreign Missions—Mrs. E. A. Davis, Mrs. G. B. Crockett, Mrs. Lester West.
For Home Missions—Mrs. W. B. Edwards, Mrs. W. L. Bonney, Annie Edwards.

The monthly meeting of the Mission circle met at the Baptist vestry Thursday at 3 o'clock. Subject, Missions in the Philippines.

George W. Hammond.

George W. Hammond of Snow's Falls died in the Central Maine General hospital at Lewiston early Wednesday morning, April 27th. He had been in the hospital for treatment for some weeks, and two or three weeks before his death suffered the amputation of a leg because of gangrene in the foot.

Mr. Hammond was the son of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Hammond of Paris and was born Nov. 14, 1826. In the early days of the California gold excitement he went to that region by the way of Cape Horn, but returned to Paris. After a few years in another part of the town he settled at Snow's Falls, where he lived for the rest of his life. He was postmaster at Snow's Falls for most of the time he lived there, and to the time of his death. He had served the town as supervisor of schools, and as representative in the legislature.

He was made a Mason in Paris Lodge in 1864, and from 1866 to 1877, although living six miles from the hall, held various offices in the lodge, serving as master in the last named year. When Granite Lodge at West Paris was chartered, he with a number of others left Paris Lodge to join that.

Mr. Hammond married Emily C. Thayer, daughter of America Thayer of Paris. She died several years ago. Two daughters were born to them, Mary E., married Charles Benson of Paris; Caroline P. lived at home with her father and was housekeeper after her mother's death till her death a few years since. The daughter, Mrs. Benson, also died leaving a young son, Robert C. Benson, who has made his home at his grandfather's, and these two had been the sole members of the household for some time.

The funeral of Mr. Hammond was held Friday afternoon at the Universalist church at West Paris, attended by Rev. Miss Macduff, and in charge of Granite Lodge of Masons, which performed its funeral service following the service conducted by the minister. Burial was in Hillside cemetery, Paris Hill.

Mrs. Clara Clark of West Sumner has visited at Almon Churchill's.

Addie L. Edgerley will spend the summer in South Weymouth, Mass.

The South Paris band will furnish music for Memorial day exercises.

Irving Barrows, at the store of F. N. Wright, is ill. L. S. Sessions is taking his place.

Morris L. Noyes is grading his lot and building a concrete walk at his new house on Pine street.

Mr. and Mrs. Will Cummings have gone to the Rangeleys, where they will be employed this summer.

Maud L. Swan, who has been working at Alfred, is to work at The Beeches for Dr. Hammond this summer.

Mr. and Mrs. Albert L. Morse have moved to Lewiston. Mr. Morse has a position with the Maine Central railroad.

Mrs. C. A. Allen is in the C. M. G. hospital at Lewiston because of blood poisoning started by a cut on her finger.

Willard G. Pratt of Rumford will move his family here. He is employed at the Cummings Manufacturing Company's shop.

The annual meeting of the Oxford County Patriotic Association will be held at South Paris on July 4 instead of June 17.

Howard W. Shaw received a surprise party Thursday evening, at his home on Main street. The affair was in honor of his birthday.

Grace Thayer has returned from her trip to Baltimore and Washington. Mrs. George F. Eastman, who had been visiting in Boston, returned with her as far as Portland.

Frank L. Doble and son, Frank C. Doble, of Methuen, Mass., have been in town. Mr. Doble, sr., is in the grocery business and Mr. Doble, jr., is in Tufts college taking a course in electrical engineering.

Because of the rain Saturday, Paris found it necessary to call the game off with Norway. The game was postponed to Tuesday, May 3, at 3 o'clock. Next Saturday Paris plays the home team which is composed of boys who have graduated from the Paris high school.

The work on the addition to the Davis block has been begun. Twenty feet will be added to the full width of the building. This will be occupied by the Paris Home Bakery. Because of Mr. Walker's increasing business, a new oven will be added and machines for doing some of the work to be run by electricity.

The Odd Fellows, Rebekahs and invited guests observed the 91st anniversary of Odd Fellowship at Odd Fellows' hall, Monday evening, Noble Grand C. A. Marston presiding. There was an address by Grand Warden Charles E. Jackson of Portland. Rev. Chester Gore Miller and Rev. E. A. Davis made appropriate remarks. The Bates College quartette with Mr. Farnsworth as reader furnished the entertainment. There was also a bass solo by Mr. Morrison and a violin solo by Mr. Davis. Ice cream and cake were served and there was a social for the "young people."

Porter District.

G. F. Felton was in Lewiston a part of last week.

W. E. Bryant and wife, W. O. Bryant, wife and son went to South Woodstock, April 28th, to visit their mother. It was her 76th birthday.

A party of over 30 neighbors and friends gave Leslie Barrows a surprise party at his home Saturday evening, April 30. A very enjoyable evening was passed with phonograph music and games. Refreshments of apples, cake, saltines and ice cream were served. Mr. Barrows received a number of pretty gifts.

WELCHVILLE.

Herbert Gray of Rochester, N. H., is visiting with his father, Charles Gray.

Mrs. Cleve Bell was taken to the C. M. G. hospital at Lewiston, Friday.

The committees on the work on the church had an entertainment in the vestry, Saturday evening, and made fourteen dollars and thirty cents.

Rev. Mr. Morrison, who has been preaching in the church for the past few months, was with us for the last Sunday May 1st. We regret to have him leave us. He was liked very much in the church and out of the church. He has made many friends while in Welchville. Rev. Mr. Robbins will take his place the coming year.

NORTH NORWAY.

Carroll Herrick is at home attending school.

Hubert York from West Bethel was in town, Monday.

H. S. Flint and wife are living in Amos French's house.

Will Mason is at work for Arthur Herrick for the season.

True Penley and wife from Auburn were at Fred Hersey's May 1st.

Wm. Burns from Harpswell was this way Tuesday, selling salted fish.

All are glad to welcome Mr. and Mrs. F. Q. Elliott to their country home.

Wilbur Rogers lost three bags of grain from his stable recently. Thieves!

Mrs. Nellie Needham is caring for Mrs. Lendall Yates, who has a little son.

E. O. French has lately set out 275 trees on his farm at Swift's Corner.

Flora J. Cummings is caring for Mrs. Frank Wood, who has a little daughter.

Edna Cummings has been visiting her grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. O. W. H. Judkins.

Clarence Austin has bought a farm in Hartford and after planting will move his family there.

Mrs. I. J. Judkins was presented with a lovely bouquet of Mayflowers, ferns and evergreen by Ora Merrill.

The Methodist minister from the village, Rev. Mr. Wentworth, will preach at the Center church May 8th.

J. H. French from Jamaica Plain, Mass., has shipped his goods to the old homestead at Swift's Corner and he and wife will soon follow.

The remains of Mr. Gledhill of Massachusetts were interred at the cemetery at the Center. He was the son of John and Katherine (Wilkins) Gledhill, who lived in this town 50 years ago where Fred Hersey now lives.

EAST STONEHAM.

C. L. Bartlett bought a horse of C. Fernald of Albany a short time ago.

S. A. Stearns has had his buildings painted this spring. They look fine.

Walter Butters is buying a number of eggs this spring to put in his incubator.

Geo. F. Stone of Norway has been in town taking photographs, and also at North Lovell.

Ava McKeen is doing the housework at V. H. Littlefield's, while Mrs. Littlefield is at the hospital.

V. H. Littlefield bought a horse recently of the Andrews Bros. at Norway to put on the stage route.

Mr. and Mrs. Lorin McKeen, sr., have moved into their house which was occupied by Lorin McKeen, jr., and family, who are now living at South Paris.

Archie Stearns is home from South Paris, where he has been at work in the sled factory since last August. He will stay at home this summer but intends returning to Paris in the fall or winter.

Orrington Rowe of Lovell has been in town grafting trees. Mr. Rowe is a good hand for grafting trees, as a number in this vicinity will tell you and as one may see for one's self by the trees which he grafted last year.

School began here at the village the 25th of April, taught by Goldie Frost of Norway. There are 23 pupils, most of them very small, this being their first term of school. There ought to be some repairs made on the schoolhouse as the seats and desks are in bad condition.

Ira Harriman and family are living in the rent over S. A. Stearns' blacksmith shop. Mr. Stearns' has let his shop to Mr. Harriman for a few months and is canvassing for a Chicago picture company. Mr. Stearns seems to be doing well though it has rained most of the time since he started.

There is a wild-cat somewhere between Curtis Bickford's and Lovell-turn. It has been heard a number of times lately and it chased Mr. Nelson one evening last week as he was going over with the stage. He would make a good addition to Mr. Flint's Jungle Show, if there was some one brave enough to catch him.

Mrs. Bertha McAllister nee Skinner is teaching the school at Bartlettborough this spring. Mrs. McAllister taught school there and also here at the village and was liked very much at both places by the pupils and also the parents. It is expected that Mr. and Mrs. McAllister will move into their new home before long as it is almost finished. It is situated a short distance from the residence of J. Bartlett, and also just a short walk from Upper Stone lake at Bartlettborough.

There has been a lot of sickness in Stoneham this spring. Those who have been on the sick list but are better at present are Mrs. Sally Whitehouse, Mrs. Harriet McKeen, Mrs. H. M. Parker, Mrs. A. B. Grover, Mrs. Fred Littlefield, C. L. Stearns' family and S. A. Stearns' family, also a lot more who have had colds. Fred Small is some better but Henry Bickford doesn't seem to be gaining very fast. It will be remembered that Mr. Bickford had a shock last winter and has been in poor health since.

Answers Every Call

Norway People Have Found That This Is True.

A co'd, a strain, a sudden wrench,
A little cause may hurt the kidneys.
Spells of backache often follow.
Or some irregularity of the urine.
A certain remedy for such attacks,
A medicine that answers ever call,
Is Doan's Kidney Pills, a true specific.
Many Norway people rely on it.
Here is Norway proof.

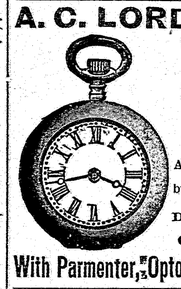

S. C. Foster, Main St., Norway, Me., says: "I have used Doan's Kidney Pills and am able to speak highly in their favor. Several years ago my kidneys began to trouble me and learning of Doan's Kidney Pills, I procured a box. It was not long after commencing their use that I felt much better. I was free from kidney trouble until recently when a cold brought on another attack. I procured Doan's Kidney Pills at Stone's Drug Store and after taking a few doses, I was relieved of every symptom of the trouble. Whenever I have taken this remedy it has never failed to help me and I therefore speak highly in its favor when an opportunity occurs." 18-19

Bird Song.

I love the fresh notes of the mocking bird's song,
The lilt is so bright and merry
Echoing both from the bonny wood,
Ringing "cheerily, cheerily, cheery."

The earth is so gladsome, all is so bright.
O'er my hammock the oriole sways,
Then as lightly he flits from bough to bough,
As pass lightly life's sunshiny days.

The gull skims along over water and brink,
His immaculate wings dipping low.
Then widespread and bold for the salt sea he goes,
Nor cares for its wild storms and blow.

The loon far aloft from his dizzy height,
Fearless yon cloudlets he fans,
Rings out his wild screech in his lonely flight,
As o'er the trackless course he spans.

List the robins' notes, "cheerup, sweet, sweet,"
Sound the words in his native way,
Nighiingale, tauger, sparrow and thrush,
Each one has its own sweet lay.

If the bird may be glad, his passion outpouring
In song, can forget perils near,
Oh, let song attend us, with hearts overflowing,
And let gladness outweigh every fear.

JENNIE E. SNOW KIMBALL.

No Occupation.

She rose before daylight made crimson the east
For duties that never diminished,
And never the sun when he sank in the West
Looked down on work that was finished.

She cooked an unending procession of meals,
Preserving and canning and baking,
She swept and she dusted, she washed and she scrubbed
With never a rest from it taking.

A family of children she brought in the world
And raised them and trained them and taught them,
She made all their clothes, and patched, mended and darned
Till miracles seemed to have wrought them.

She watched by the bedside of sickness and pain,
Her hand cooled the raging of fever;
She carpe'tered, painted, upholstered and scraped,
And worked just as hard as a beaver.

And yet as a lady of leisure, it seems,
The Government looks on her station;
For now by the rules of the census report
It enters her: "No occupation"

DIXFIELD.

Reception to Mr. and Mrs. Geo. T. Porter.

On Saturday evening, April 23, Mr. and Mrs. George T. Porter gave a reception at their home on the river road in honor of their son and his wife, Mr. and Mrs. W. C. Porter.

Very Much "At ea."

The Washington Evening Star of April 19, in a letter from its famous correspondent, William E. Curtis, dated "At Sea, North German Lloyd S. S.; Berlin, April 5, 1910," describing a variety of freaks of odd folk and their queerness in the naming of children, etc., has this paragraph: "Vice President Hannibal Hamlin's father named his four sons after the military heros of ancient time, Cæsar, Pompey, Hannibal and Alexander; and he named his four daughters after the continents, Europia, Asia, Africa and America.

That correspondent was very much "at sea" in publishing the foregoing, for between it and the authentic account of the children of Hannibal Hamlin's father, there is a wide discrepancy. The grandfather of Hannibal Hamlin, who was Captain Eleazer Hamlin, a patriot of Harvard, Mass., had four sons named Africa, America, Europe and Asia. He had also four other sons, Cyrus, Hannibal, Eleazer and George. Of the number or names of his daughters, the writer has no record.

The parents of Vice President Hannibal Hamlin were Dr. Cyrus Hamlin and Anna Livermore Hamblin, who lived at Paris Hill when their son, Hannibal Hamlin was born, Aug. 27, 1809. Dr. Cyrus had seven children, viz, Elijah, Vesta, Anne, Eliza, Cyrus, Hannibal and Hannah. The line of Hamlins of whom Major Eleazer Hamlin of Harvard, Mass., was the progenitor who has been very distinguished in military and civil life of New England. Four of his sons settled in Waterford: Africa, America, Eleazer and Hannibal.

All these were men of character and ability and served the town, county and state, in various positions. Africa was moderator of the first town meeting, at which he was chosen town clerk, and first on board of selectmen and assessors. As one of the officers of the Continental army, he assisted in founding the society of the Cincinuti at Newburo. N. Y. soon after the war.

"The Ramrodders."

Major Holman Day's new story "The Ramrodders," which has just been issued from the press of Harper & Bros, is a political story and naturally it was created in a Maine atmosphere but Mr. Day said yesterday in speaking of his work, that none of the characters which appear in the book are intended to represent or do represent any real persons, living or dead.

"All my characters are purely imaginary and are intended to be types rather than portrayals of persons in real life," said Mr. Day.

"I should like to have that understood for many people when they read the book will naturally try to pick out whom I have meant by this person and that. For instance some might suppose that Thornton, the aged politician, might be a picture of Major Dickey of Fort Kent but the character is not Major Dickey at all.

I have located him in the atmosphere which surrounded the old Aroostook legislator but the man himself is purely imaginary. Thornton is a type of the old school politician, personally honest, but who played politics according to the rules of the game as they saw it. He is one of the old guard who ruled by force and who would stop at almost nothing to win.

"His grandson Harlan, I have intended to represent the new school of public men, the kind that has developed more particularly since Roosevelt's time; who are disciples of the square deal and who believe that legislation should be in the interests of the people and that they should have something to say about their own business.

"Presson, the chairman of the State committee, is another type of which there are many in Maine, as there are in every other state in the Union. He realizes that the time of the politician of the Thornton school has gone by and while he is less scrupulous and more "practical," in the narrow sense of the word, than young Thornton he realizes that the ideas and principals which he represents cannot be ignored.

"There is a parson who tries to get into politics and who is not overscrupulous as to his methods and another preacher who is the typical moral and religious bigot, but they are all characters who exist nowhere outside of the book except as types.

"In drawing my men and women I have taken characteristics which I have observed in persons whom I have known in public life and applied them to my imaginary ones, but no living person has been lifted bodily into the book or any considerable part of one."

"Oxford Star."

Edwin R. Briggs of West Bethel, shows us a copy of the "Oxford Star," volume one, number two, published in Norway, June 15, 1870. The Star was published semi-monthly on the first and fifteenth of the month, by J. F. Upton. The circulation was 2,000. It was a three column, form page paper,—the pages 8 x 11½.

It had a four column story, "Faithful Carl," written by C. W. Stiles, a temperance story; a half-column editorial, sounding forth the beauties of the Star; and one column of "Local Intelligence." We reproduce the local column:—

The beauty of our streets strikes the eyes of strangers very pleasingly.

The hum of busy and really productive industry is incessantly heard in our village.

The season thus far has on the whole been very favorable, and crops never, at this time of year, looked more promising.

We hear that on Sunday last two young men, named Frost and Gammon, met in the road near what is called Sodom, and had a regular set to, using fists and even stones to disfigure each other's profiles. Gammon was severely handled, and would have been worse beaten but for the interference of the by-standers.

At the Republican Caucus held on Saturday, 11th inst., the following were chosen as delegates to the State Convention:—E. F. Beal, D. H. Young, I. A. Dennison, Geo. L. Beal, and Albert Sanborn. They were instructed to support Hon. S. Perham for Governor.

The Democrats, who held their caucus on the same day, chose Jonathan Whitehouse, S. G. Hatch, Wm. Frost, 2d, and Winthrop Matthews.

In Greenwood about the first of June a herd of about eight young cattle belonging to L. T. Roberts and Stephen Mitchell, which had been turned into the pasture for the season, were driven over a precipice by (as is supposed) a savage dog in the vicinity, and five of them killed outright; and one of the others was so badly injured as to be unable to walk, having to be conveyed home in an ox-cart. We think that dog ought to be taxed.

Through the kindness of a friend we have been shown a copy of the Oxford Democrat of the 3d inst., containing a notice of us, wherein the editor of that brilliant sheet expresses the hope that the light of the "Star" may not be hid under a hill. Although he thinks its light will be extinguished speedily, as he continues to publish at the head of the Democrat "The only paper printed in Oxford County," nevertheless we feel exceedingly grateful to him for his kind solicitude in regard to our welfare.

The Oxford Medical Association met according to call, at the office of Dr. A. M. Peables of this town, on Wednesday, 15th inst., Dr. A. L. Hersey in the chair. Drs. J. L. Horr and S. E. Verrill were admitted.

The chair appointed the following committee to nominate officers for the ensuing year:—Drs. Hall, Webber and Morton, who reported as follows:—

President, D. B. Sawyer; Vice President, C. E. Evans; Recording Secretary, O. R. Hall; Treasurer, S. H. Webber: Standing Committee, J. A. Morton, L. A. Buck, J. L. Horr, Jesse Howe, S. E. Verrill.

Typhoid Fever was then considered and discussed for some time.

It was then voted that Dr. Hall present a paper on Phthsis Pulmonalis at the next meeting, to be held in Bethel in three months.

The paper was well filled with advertising. There were then doing business in Norway, D. Webster Beal, merchant tailor; Virgin & Upton (Wm. Wirt Virgin and Henry Upton) attorneys; Higgins, Crooker & True, hardware; L. & I. A. Dennison, manufacturers of clothing; H. M. Bearce, attorney; Calvin E. Evans, physician and surgeon; Fred E Crockett, electric physician and surgeon; Mrs. A. E. Cole, ladies' furnishing goods; Freeland Howe, insurance; George A. Cole, wool carding and cloth dressing; Horace Cole, jeweler.

L. and I. A. Dennison have a two column advertisement, advertising their dry goods, groceries, crockery and glass ware, hats and caps, boots and shoes, and ready-made clothing. E. W. Howe had dry goods, carpetings, and groceries. H. Upton had life and fire insurance.

The Norway Mutual Fire Insurance Co., with Benj. Tucker secretary, and M. P. Smith secretary, said the company had been in operation fifteen years and had issued 639 policies. A. B. Crockett was the Norway photographist. Wm. E. Goodnow had a desirable house with two acres of land for sale.

The Norway Savings Bank had for its president, E. F. Beal; treasurer, H. M. Bearce; assistant treasurer, H. Upton; trustees, Mark P. Smith, Robert Noyes, Ceylon Watson, H. G. Cole, Jona. Blake and A. Shurtleff. The publisher takes a full column to tell of the good things in the printing business.

It is thought that the freeze Thursday night will injure the early fruit.

Appetite Gone.

Indigestion is the Cause of it—Get Rid of it.

People go on suffering from little stomach troubles for years and imagine they have a serious disease.

They over eat or over drink and force on the stomach a lot of extra work.

But they never think that the stomach needs extra help to do extra work.

If these people would take a Mi-o-na stomach tablet with or after meals it would be a great big help to the stomach in its strain of overwork.

Mi-o-na is guaranteed by Frank Kimball, proprietor of the Noyes Drug Store, to cure indigestion or any stomach disease or money back.

Mi-o-na for belching of gas.
Mi-o-na for distress after eating.
Mi-o-na for foul breath.

WORMS

Unsuspected worms are the cause of numerous little things that go wrong with children. When a child is sick you rarely think that its sickness is caused by worms, yet worms, either directly or indirectly, are the cause of three quarters of all the ills of childhood. Children, and often-times adults feel out of sorts, are irritable, feel listless and unrefreshed in the morning; suffer with indigestion, have a variable appetite, foul tongue, offensive breath; hard and full belly, with occasional gripings and pains about the navel; eyes heavy, and dull; itching of the nose; short, dry cough; grinding of the teeth; slow fever; and often in children, convulsions—in the majority of cases the cause of all the trouble is worms though you may not suspect their presence.

TRUE'S ELIXIR

a pure vegetable compound, has been the standard household remedy since 1851; it never fails to expel not only worms but all waste matter, leaving the blood rich and pure, the stomach sweet, the bowels regular and the whole system strong and healthy.

The mother who gives her children Dr. True's Elixir regularly is wise, because it not only increases the appetite, acts as a preventative of coughs, colds, fever and worms and gives rugged, robust health.

Sold by all Druggists. Price 35c, 50c and $1.00.

SWIFT'S ANIMAL FERTILIZERS

Active all the time.

Too Much Emphasis

cannot be laid upon the fact that the fertilizer nearest to nature, or nature's manure, will prove the most reliable and profitable.

That is why Swift's Fertilizers are so much in demand—so satisfactory. They are crop producers as well as soil builders. They leave the soil in excellent condition for later use after first crops have been removed.

For this reason they are active all the time. Be sure you use them.

Swift—Superior—Sure

"It gives me great pleasure to state that I raised one of the finest crops of corn on Swift's Fertilizer this season ever produced on World's End Farm. The yield was more than 95 bushels shelled corn per acre.

Have used these fertilizers to my entire satisfaction the past ten years, and will use them extensively this coming season."

[Signed] C. R. Goodhue, Supt., World's End Farm, Hingham, Mass.

"I have conducted an experiment with over 60 varieties of potatoes to ascertain the best yielder. Swift's Superior Fertilizer has given glorious results in spite of the driest season known in the century. Yield 400 bushels per acre of handsome salable potatoes. After many years' trial with different kinds, your fertilizer gives me the best results, and it conserves moisture even in periods of drought."

[Signed] Rev. J. R. Lawrence, Raynham, Mass.

One of the vital demands upon you is to enrich the soil and maintain its fertility. To do this economically and successfully simply insist upon using Swift's Animal Fertilizers. They cost no more than others, and are swift, superior, sure. See local agent or write us, Free Pocket Memo Booklet containing valuable crop information on application.

There 196 cases on the continued civil docket, 17 on the equity docket and 75 criminal actions.

The suit of Charles Chase against the Berlin Mills Co., which was tried at the October term and judgment rendered for the plaintiff but which was marked "law" by the defendant's counsel filing a motion for a new trial, has been settled by payment of the judgment with costs.

The new entries will not be so numerous as one year ago.

As several cases were assigned last term for the first and second days of the court at Rumford it is probable that the term will last into the second week.

BETHEL.

Village Corporation Meeting.

A special meeting of the Bethel village corporation was held Monday evening. It was voted to establish an automatic fire alarm and to install it at once. $800 was appropriated to be used to defray the expenses. It was left to the assessors, J. W. Purington, D. G. Lovejoy and C. K. Fox, to attend to the work.

The twenty years' contract with the Bethel Water Co. expires at this time, and at a recent meeting of the corporation it was voted that the assessors look up the matter and report at this meeting. The contract as drawn up by the assessors provided for a flat rate of $30 per year per hydrant, and a valuation of $8000 for taxation, the contract to be for a term of twenty years. The vote was in favor of making the contract as outlined by the assessors.

Oxford Pomona Grange.

The Oxford County Pomona met with Bethel Grange, Tuesday of this week. Although the weather in the early morning threatened rain and kept some at home who would have come by team from a distance, yet the attendance was good and 19 candidates took the fifth or Pomona degree.

The meeting opened at 11 a. m. after the arrival of the train from the south, Worthy Master Gates in the chair. After the usual routine of opening and hearing the reports from the subordinate Granges, the candidates were introduced and the degree work was done in a very fine and impressive manner.

A recess for dinner followed, after which the literary program for the day was carried out. This was opened with an anthem by the select choir; next a paper on current events by H. P. Dennison of West Bethel, which was very interesting; song by Jane Gibson, which was given a hearty encore. S. C. Stetson, Master of the Maine State Grange, who was present, was then introduced and gave a very stirring and instructive address on matters connected with the Grange work. There was a solo by H. P. Dennison, after which the question was presented, "What can the Grange suggest to improve our public school service." Discussed by Lecturer Hutchins, lecturer of Bethel Grange, State Chaplain Little and Bro. Roberts of Norway.

At 3.30 p. m. the closing service came and all had ample time to reach the station in good season for the down train which leaves here at 3 52. A vote of thanks was extended to Bethel Grange for its generous and excellent hospitality and entertainment. Thanks were also extended to the State Master for his able address.

Universalist Notes.

The annual meeting of the Universalist parish was held last Saturday evening in the church parlor. The official reports showed all bills paid and enough money pledged to meet all bills to June 1st, the end of the pastoral year, and leave a surplus to start in with on the next year. It has been an unusually prosperous year in all branches of the church work. Thirteen members have been added to the church membership list.

Mrs. Ames entertained the Sunday school class of Mrs. J. H. Little last Thursday from 4 to 6 p. m., with games and light banquet. Mrs. Little and Mrs. J. S. Burbank were present and assisted in the entertainment. The children had a good time and went home happy. One of them asked as they went out when there would be another one.

The Bethel Lodge, I. O. O. F., and Rebekahs attended service at the Universalist church, April 24th, and listened to a sermon by the pastor, Rev. J. H. Little, on "Friendship, Love and Truth." It was a pleasant day and there was a large audience present.

The meeting of the Y. P. C. U. last Sunday evening was led by E. C. Park, esq., and it was a very interesting meeting. It was Consecration Sunday and nearly every one present had a selection or a word upon the topic.

Mrs. Gates of Paris came up on the morning train last Sunday and attended service at the Uniecrsalist church, and remained till Tuesday, visiting her sister, Mrs. Willey, then attended the Pomona.

An operetta is in preparation to be given in Odeon Hall, May 12-13. Part of the proceeds go to the ladies' circle of the Universalist parish.

Edward Lyons of Auburn has purchased the jewelry business of the late George T. Lawrence.

The operetta "Little Bo-Peep" will be given at Odeon Hall, May 12th, under the auspices of the Universalist church.

A peculiar feature of the automobile route between Bethel and Rumford is the fact that there are four covered bridges to be passed through.

At the annual parish meeting of the First Universalist church, Saturday evening, the following officers were chosen:

Moderator—D. S. Hastings.
Clerk—E. C. Park.
Treas.—Mrs. O. M. Mason.
Trustees—Seth Walker, E. C. Park, D. S. Hastings, M. L. Thurston, J. C. Billings.

The electric light system which was installed in Bethel last fall has proved a successful enterprise. The street lights have from the start been extra good. At first these were run till 10 p. m., then till 12 midnight. The lights in the homes were at first introduced in a few houses, then in others, and now they are in general use, and May 1st an all night system was adopted, and by June 1st it is hoped to increase the service to 23 hours a day service, shutting down one hour at noon to care for the machinery. Bethel is blessed with fine scenery, excellent water system, good lights, an abundance of pure air, making it one of the best places in the world to live in or to visit, and it has some of the best people in the world to mingle with.

Will Gary has put a new electric motor in his laundry.

Ellery C. Park is making improvements in the ell of his house and had electric lights put in.

"So you won a turkey at the raffle, Rastus?"

"Uh-huh! W'ile de res' was shakin' dice I scused mahself."

Potatoes Preserved on Coke.

A new method for keeping potatoes and preventing sprouting is reported by Richard Guenther, United States consul at Frankfort, Germany. It consists of placing them on a layer of coke, and Dr. Schiller of Brunswick, who is responsible for the idea, is of the opinion that the improved ventilation thus gained is not alone responsible for the result. He believes that it is due to the oxidation of the coke, which, however, is a very slow one. Coke contains sulphur, and he considers it quite possible that the minute quantities of oxides of carbon and sulphur which result from the oxidation, mixing with the air and penetrating among the potatoes, are sufficient to greatly retard sprouting. Potatoes so treated are said to keep in good condition for a year.

Childhood Dreams Shattered.

History Abounds in Little Romantic Stories That Never Happened.

Most children brought up in the country believe that the trees make the wind. A leading citizen declares that when he was a boy he thought the engineer had to steer the train to keep it on the track. A young writer, in his early childhood, believed that everything that went on in the world around him was a great theatrical performance staged for his special benefit.

These are what we call fallacies—from the Latin verb fallere, to deceive. As the psychologists tell us, they come either by reasoning falsely from correct premises or reasoning correctly from false premises.

Most of them, especially children's, are by reasoning falsely from correct premises. Children are likely to have imagination. The imaginative person wants to explain the natural phenomena about him in the most entertaining and attractive way. The matter-of-fact person, the hard-headed business man, seldom has any fallacies. What he has are all deduced by reasoning correctly from wrong premises.

Weather is the subject of quanities of absurd theories, among which some people rank first the idea that the government forecasters can predict it. There is a belief that mild winters follow a mild December. There were those firings of cannon and exploiting aeral bombs some years ago to make rain fall on the thirsty lands. We are even told now that our old pets, the equinoctial storms are but creatures of imagination.

History abounds in things which never happened. Wellington never said, "Up guards, and at them!" at the battle of Waterloo. Dick Whittington never came to London with a domestic animal called a cat. William Tell never shot the apple off his son's head, and Horatius never defended the bridge. The old story about Lady Godiva has been absolutely disproved and Mt. Ararat was not a mountain but a region.

Cinderella is said to have worn glass slippers to the famous ball at which she made her reputation. In the old eastern version, she wore fur slippers. The French translated it "pantoufle en vair," and the English translators mistook it for "pantoufle en verre, which" is pronounced the same.

When a woman opens a closet door and a moth flies out, she thinks as a rule, that the moth has been eating her clothes. The case is even on record of a young woman who, on being asked what she had given a captive moth to eat, said: "Oh, I gave it a bit of old rag!" Of course the creature does its eating in the grub stage, and is harmless when it has become a flying thing—save that it will produce revenous progeny.

The pendulum does not make the clock go. It merely makes it go evenly.

Steam is invisible. What we see emerging from locomotives is steam which has begun to turn back into water.

Wart lore is voluminous. It is said that a wart will leave a person if a lock of hair is cut from the nape of the neck without his knowing it; that warts may be cured by rubbing them over with a black snail, which must afterward be impaled on a hawthorn; that if a bag containing as many pebbles as one has warts be tossed over the left shoulder it will transfer the warts to the person who picks up the bag; that if one takes a piece of twine, makes as many knots as there are warts, touch each wart with the corresponding knot, and bury the twine in a moist place, saying: "There is none to redeem it beside thee," the warts will disappear; and so on ad infinitum.

Diamonds will wear out, though to most people they are the symbol of indestructibility. They cut glass to be sure, but they are worn themselves in the process.

Catgut is not made from cats at all, but from sheep and horses. And, speaking of music, it is not true that playing discords on a piano will put it out of tune. A person capable of playing discords habitually would undoubtedly be the sort to injure a piano by hammering it indiscreetly. Playing harmonies on a piano or an instrument of any kind does not improve its tone.

Some other fallacies are these:

That the sun and moon are larger near the horizon than overhead.

The sea water never freezes.

The fog hinders sound.

The ice is never colder than 32 degrees.

That a green Christmas makes a fat churchyard.

That if you toss up a coin ten times and it comes "heads" every time, it will be more likely to come "tails" the 11th time.

That India ink and India rubber come from India.

That rice paper is made from rice.

That camel's-hair brushes are made from camel's hair.

That is is dangerous to have flowers in one's bedroom at night.

That carrying a raw potato is a preventative of rheumatism.

That tomatoes induce cancer.

That wooden articles and metallic articles, which have been left in the same room for several hours, are not of the same temperature.

That red flannel is warmer than white flannel.

That the sun shining into the room raises the dust.

That a thick tumbler stands hot water better than a thin one.

That a thaw bursts the water pipes.

The State Council, Daughters of the American Revolution of Maine, offers three prizes, of eight, five and two dollars respectively, to the pupils of the Grammar Schools of the State, who shall produce the three best essays on any Revolutionary subject that the pupils may choose. The merits of these essays will be passed upon by the Committee, and announcement of the awarding of the prizes will be made through the newspapers of the State. Rules governing the contest:

1st. The prizes will be awarded to the pupils of the three upper grades of the Grammar Schools, the age of the pupil not to be considered.

2nd. Each essay will be limited to 500 words.

3rd. Competitors must write on one side of the paper only.

4th. Manuscripts must not be rolled.

5th. The name of the writer must not appear, in any form on the essay.

6th. The name and address of the writer must be placed in a small envelope, and the envelope sealed and attached to the upper left-hand corner of the first page of the manuscript.

7th. Manuscripts must reach the Chairman of the Committee, Cora B. Bickford, 30 Mt. Pleasant Street, Biddeford, Me., not later than Wednesday, June 1, 1910.

Milan Osgood who has been working on James Russ' farm, Oxford disappeared Saturday night. There have been searching parties out since but no trace of him has been discovered.

Curing the Borrowing Habit.

In a prosperous village in the northwest, a village that had not yet arisen to the dignity of a public baker, there lives a housewife noted for her industry and energy. Her mother was a great breadmaker and she (the young housewife) had always from her girlhood, been accustomed to high grade home-made bread.

Her mother said there was one great secret to bread making, knead, knead, knead! The lazy, shiftless, slovenly woman who threw her mix together any old way and trusted to good luck for the yeast to work through, never made good bread. It was beyond her.

So when this daughter of her mother took to herself a husband and, in turn, bossed her own kitchen she made bread as mother used to make it. She got the best flour, and there is only one best flour, it wouldn't be best if there were more than one, and the best of every thing else and she made bread. The advice of her mother took deep root in her and as far as bread was concerned, she did not propose to sit at her end of the table and listen to her husband prate about bread as mother (his mother) used to make.

So she kneaded and kneaded and, exercising due care also in other directions she always took from her oven a batch of light, full-volumed, nut brown, sweet bread. Women win or lose reputations, and she won a reputation as a bread maker. And the neighbors began to borrow. The borrowing habit became confirmed and our good and industrious housewife found that instead of having one baking day, she must bake twice a week to insure bread being in the house.

Of course the neighbors returned their loaves of bread, and such bread! Kneaded with a spoon or stirred in pail with a poker, but no elbow grease used as shortening. As a rule it was coarse and abominable bread, streaky and lumpy. She wouldn't put such bread on her table so sitting down she put on her thinking cap.

As Mrs. Jones returned her loan she would write on a slip of paper, "Mrs. Jones, her bread," and the loaf would go into the bread tin and there remain, one, two or three weeks, until Mrs. Jones got bread-hungry again for a really good slice of home-made and around would come Mrs. Jones' little girl for the loan of a loaf of bread.

So going to the pantry our industrious and intelligent housewife would take Mrs. Jones' own loaf of bread, beautifully stale by this time, and soberly hand same to the observing and somewhat astonished child, and she, the messenger, took back home a loaf of her mother's own bread.

And the borrowers one and all in due course got back a loaf of their own "stale" and as a result, the borrowing habit ceased in the neighborhood. The industrious bread-making woman bakes now but once a week, as of yore, and when people come to eat they praise her beautiful, white, sweet bread, and eat bountifully of it, ask for her formula, but never attempt to borrow.

CASCO.

Ruby and Herman Brackett are visiting relatives in town.

Mr. Googins and family from Westbrook are to move into Iva S. Gay's house the coming week.

Chores as an Education.

The home and the factory are now sharply differentiated; the factory assumes many of the functions formerly belonging to the home.

The latter, particularly when situated in the city, offers very little opportunity for observation of or participation in constructive work of any kind. The home chores are few; There is no wood to split, no garden to hoe, no cow to milk, no blacksmithing is done, no shoes are made, no cloth is spun and no wagon or sled is built; all this work is performed elsewhere.

In fact, the city home provides no regular and systematic work of importance for the youth. The school is thus obliged to take upon itself new obligations; its sphere of action and influence is enlarged to meet the new situation.

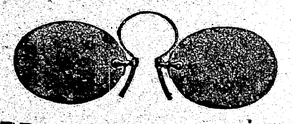

The technical school, the manual training, high school and ward school manual training have been grafted on to our educational system to meet the demand for boys who possess trained hands and eyes—boys who are able to plan and to execute.

Does Not Stimulate

Ayer's Sarsaparilla does not stimulate. It does not make you feel better one day, then as bad as ever the next. It is not a strong drink. No reaction after you stop using it. There is not a drop of alcohol in it. You have the steady, even gain that comes from a strong tonic and alterative. We wish you would ask your doctor about this. He knows. Trust him. Do as he says. J. C. Ayer Co., Lowell, Mass.

What are Ayer's Pills? Liver Pills. How long have they been sold? Nearly sixty years. Do doctors recommend them? Ask your own doctor and find out.

NORWAY AND VICINITY.

Tuberculosis Sunday.

April 25 was Tuberculosis Sunday and most of the churches had sermons suitable for the day. The triple motto of those fighting the disease is:

1. Tuberculosis is preventable; we will prevent it
2. Tuberculosis spreads; we will check it.
3. Tuberculosis can be cured; we will cure it.

These are some of the ways to bring this about:

1. By destroying the tubercle bacillus.
2. By making the bodies of citizens strong enough to resist them.

The health department does two other things:

1. It asks doctors to report every case of consumption which they find.
2. It offers to examine, free of charge, any specimen of sputum that is sent to the laboratory.

The secret for the cure is to find when it first begins, and the only possible way to do this is to examine the sputum. Three-quarters of the cases found early and taken care of are cured. Four thing are needed:

1. Fresh air from morning until night and from night till morning.
2. Sunshine.
3. Wholesome food with an abundance of fresh milk and eggs.
4. Rest for mind and body.

If the patient discovers the disease soon after he takes it, and if he can get those four things, he will probably recover; if he cannot get them, he will propably die.

1. No medicine has yet been found that will cure consumption.
2. Advertised medicines often contain alcohol, which hastens consumption.
3. No person with consumption can afford to run the risk of taking any advertised medicine.
4. In taking medicine a consumptive should go by the advice of a good doctor.

Rules of prevention:

1. Never spit in a place where sputum may dry and get into the air.
2. Use paper or cloth and burn the sputum before it dries, or else use a spittoon that has water in it to prevent the microbes from drying and floating around in the air. Such spittoons should be properly cleaned.
3. If there is a persistent cough and a good deal of sputum, tell the doctor about it. He will have the sputum examined.
4. Obey the laws of health, that is, breathe deeply, have plenty of air and sunshine, wholesome food and sleep, be clean, exercise faithfully, and be careful not to take cold.

Shun the five tuberculosis D's, dirt, darkness, dampness, dust and drink.

Consumptives who follow these rules are not in danger of giving the disease to others. They may live under the same roof, breathe the same air, yet from first to last, if they destroy every drop of their sputum other people are not in danger. Tubercle bacilli never fly away from a damp surfaces. They stay in the throat and air tubes of a consumptive and do not get into his breath unless he breathes hard or sneezes. If he does either of those things he should hold a cloth before his mouth and burn it immediately, or have it boiled.

Any citizen with a vigorous body is best able to resist every sort of a disease microbe.

"An ounce of prevention is always better than a pound of cure."

An Error Set Right.

Mrs. Fred A. Cole has not been out of her bed over 15 minutes at a time, much less at the door, for over three months. I don't know where you got your information from but whoever gave you the news is a liar. Very respectfully yours,

SOUTH PARIS.

In Honor of Our Civil War Veterans.

After having been a two years' sojourner in the town of Paris, my mind has often been led to the beautiful old spots of my childhood days. The changes have been many, some for the improvement of the villages and not a few of the dear old haunts look neglected.

It seems to me that some of our most influential people have, like in the good old Bible times, been found sleeping. I think this must be true when I think of some of our treasured comrades lying in unkept graves. I think on Decoration Day we can go to these neglected spots and say with the writer of this articles, the whole rural districts have been asleep these many years.

It is too bad in a thriving town like Paris that the more remote spots where lie whole families, in many cases that those most nearly connected should not take on renewed zeal, and say from now each citizen in the little hamlets scattered along the highways should take pride in having the old cemeteries better cared for.

It looks very badly to people used to beautiful parks and cemeteries with beautiful trees to behold the sad condition of these remote rural graves of our cherished dead.

The prices of this year's flowers will be too much to have any elaborate wreaths, but in each rural district if there are any G. A. R. Posts, join with the school children and instead of the real roses made by God's wonderful process, "nature," make beautiful wreaths of evergreen strewn here and there with artificial flowers of every hue, which will be just as beautiful to the memory of our grand old comrades. The whole town will seem to resound with the knack to imitate the beautiful wonderful beauties of nature made perfect.

May this be the true sentiment of every citizen in the town of Paris.

R. E. Stafford and W. W. Saunders have hired the New hall at South Paris for one month and will run a first-class moving picture show at popular prices. Nothing but licensed films used. They did a very successful business at Rumford Falls last winter. Since they closed there they have been traveling on the road and had large houses at Bethel. They opened at South Paris Saturday evening with "The Outlaw's Sacrifice."

Origin of "Watered Stock."

The expression "watered stock," which describes so well the expansion of the stock of a company beyond the value of the property, originated, it is said, in connection with Daniel Drew, who was once the wealthiest and most unique manipulator in Wall street. Drew had been a drover in his younger days, and it was said of him that before selling his catttle in the market he would first give them large quantities of salt to make them thirsty and then provide them with all the water they could drink. In this way thei weight was greatly increased, and the purchaser was buying "watered stock."—[Mountaineer.

DOCTOR ADVISED OPERATION

Cured by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound

Galena, Kans.—"A year ago last March I fell, and a few days after there was soreness in my right side. In a short time a bunch came and it bothered me so much at night I could not sleep. It kept growing larger and by fall it was as large as a hen's egg. I could not go to bed without a hot water bottle applied to that side. I had one of the best doctors in Kansas and he told my husband that I would have to be operated on as it was something like a tumor caused by a rupture. I wrote to you for advice and you told me not to get discouraged but to take Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. I did take it and soon the lump in my side broke and passed away."—Mrs. R. R. HUEY, 713 Mineral Ave., Galena, Kans.

Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, made from roots and herbs, has proved to be the most successful remedy for curing the worst forms of female ills, including displacements, inflammation, fibroid tumors, irregularities, periodic pains, backache, bearing-down feeling, flatulency, indigestion, and nervous prostration. It costs but a trifle to try it, and the result has been worth millions to many suffering women.

If you want special advice write for it to Mrs. Pinkham, Lynn, Mass. It is free and always helpful.

War!

I see by the papers that "the Senate has passed unanimously the Senate bill appropriating $100,000 for rifle-practice in the schools and Universities of the country and among civilian clubs. This bill has been endorsed by the War department and by the National Rifle Association, and has received the support of President Taft and ex-President Roosvelt." Has the United States (once a peaceful nation) come to this? Has sunk to the level of barbarians and savages? The greatest savage child on earth could do no worse, be more barbarous than the men that passed the above bill through Congress. Let us ignore politics and all religious creeds, and look at this in a humane point of view, regardless of race, or color.

Here we have it. The Congress of the United States passes a law and appropriates money to teach little boys in the schools how to kill their fellow beings! And this work is to be carried on in the shadow of the churches and in our schools.

The most savage chief that ever lived could do no more than to advise his people to teach the little braves how to use the bow and arrow, throw the tomahawk and use the spear, so that when they grew up to be "big braves" they might kill all they could before they were killed themselves.

This bill just passed by Congress is on the same, low brute level. It is just as barbarous and inhuman. The Government now offers a prize to the young man that can kill in imagination (target shooting) the greatest number in the shortest space of time. The most savage Chief that ever lived, could do no worse. For thousands of years this inhuman work, a farce and mockery, has been carried on.

When a "little yellow man" or a "red man" will kill a white man with a spear, or a tomahawk, he is a "heathen" or a "blood-thirsty savage." But when a white man can stand off half a mile with a rifle in his hands, and a bible in his pocket, and lodge a little piece of lead in the brain of the "yellow man" or "savage," he is a Christian and civilized being—only in name, no difference. It is as great a sin and wrong for the President and members of Congress, or men clothed in the garb of Christianity to advocate war and human slaughter, as for the lowest and most ragged tramp to uphold it. The President and Congress have it in their power to have war or peace just as they choose, and if they create war they are just as much murderers as if they held the rifle at their own shoulder.

It is the common class that suffers by wars, suffering in hospitals from disease and wounds, killed or crippled, and maimed for life, one arm or leg missing, "lost in battle," and a burden upon the hard toiling masses to support. In peace as in war, the politician lawmakers care no more for the hard toiling mass of men and women than a farmer cares for his horses and cattle, to be used to accomplish their own selfish ends, and it behooves us to do all in our power in the interests of humanity to prevent war.

I would rather die in the poorhouse and be buried in the "Potter's Field," than to be the greatest warrior that ever lived, die in a palace and have a monument of marble 100 feet high erected to mark the place where my body lay at rest.

Greater Prince Rupert.

Mail advices to the Traffic Department of the Grand Trunk Pacific this week show that there is great activity, both in new building operations and in the advance in real estate in Prince Rupert, which in another two months will complete its first year of existence. It is nothing unusual for a million feet of lumber to be delivered at Prince Rupert in a single week and it melts away as fast as men and teams can handle it. A number of lease holders are starting to build wharves, and the new concrete wharf of the British Columbia Government will also be under way at once. The Grand Trunk Pacific is planning further large additions to its already extensive wharves. The British Columbia legislature late in the season, which has just closed, gave Prince Rupert a charter as a town, with special privileges and rights as to the control of municipal water and lighting privileges not enjoyed by other cities in British Columbia. The population of Prince Rupert believe that the inauguration of their own municipal government instead of being administered by commissioners, will mean a further stimulus to the already phenomenal, if not magical growth of the town.

The whole country has its eyes on those two Wellesley college girls who have decided to take up farming as a profession. One great trouble with farming in this country today is that too many who engage in it regard it not as a profession but as a compromise or as a last resort when everything else fails.

Count Direct, a son of Direct Hal 2.04¼ and The Countess, by Mambrino King attracted the attention of our thoughtful breeders to him as a sire, through the performance of the three year old filly, Countess Chimes last season.

She was the first of his get to be trained. She showed quarters in 33 seconds. There were days last fall when she could have shown a full mile in 2 20 or better.

That she impressed others as being a fast trotting filly, will add that Walter Cox of Dover, N. H. bought her of Geo. Bonnallie last fall. That fact alone is no small compliment to Count Direct.

Will stand at the stable of W. J. WHEELER at $25.00 to warrant. Send for full pedigree. 17-24

Notable Services

Of Rear Admiral William Wirt Kimball.

When Rear Admiral William Wirt Kimball hauls down his flag from the cruiser Albany as Commander-in-Chief of the Nicaragua Expeditionary Force he will have ended a five months' tour of duty which has been of exceptional interest and importance.

The assignment, moreover, has been extremely complimentary to him, inasmuch as he is the only officer of the navy who has been assigned to the command of a squadron after having been transferred from the list of active service to the roster of the retired. But this was explained by the Navy Department, "Kimball is the very man for the work."

The Admiral showed himself to be a diplomat of a high order. He won the confidence and esteem of the whole of Nicaragua, irrespective of party. He was cheered wherever he went, by the Madriz Government party, by the Estradists, by the Interventionists.

"What we need," one of the Interventsonists enthusiastically said to the Admiral at the time when intervention talk was running high, "is American occupation and the strong arm of your country compelling order in Nicaragua."

"What you really most need," the Admiral with his customary good sense replied, "is less talk of revolution, less importations of fire arms and more of farm implements."

The Nicaraguan newspapers have had columns of complimentary references to Admiral Kimball. Considering that he was in Nicaraguan waters and in command of a military force which might any day have been called into use against Nicaragua, this praise from these Sir Huberts is praise indeed. With three parties struggling for supremacy, with the one in power being distinctly hostile to everything American, the situation from any point of view was an extremely delicate one and required infinite tact to handle.

The Admiral is possessed of that tact in a high degree and brought it into play. Not only did he prevent any conflict between the forces of the United States and those of the contending parties, but in so doing fully maintained the dignity of the flag and met every situation with a strict observance of the requirements of international law and of naval usage.

The Admiral was born in Paris, Me., on Jan. 9, 1848. He entered the Naval Academy on July 31, 1866, graduating four years later. In 1870 he was promoted to the rank of ensign and in the following year to that of master, a rank which was abolished many years ago.

He was one of the first of his profession on this side of the Atlantic to recognize the potential value of the submarine, and it was largely through his efforts that John P. Holland was eventually enabled to construct the pioneer of that type of vessel.

It was because of Kimball's knowledge of torpedoes and torpedo boats that he was assigned to the command of the First Torpedo Flotilla at the outbreak of the war with Spain.

In a still earlier day, the Admiral, then a lieutenant, rendered conspicuous service. When the United States of Colombia broke into revolution in the early eighties, this nation, acting under an international agreement, sent its fleet to Aspinwall, as Colon is now known, and under the command of the then Commander Bowman H. McCalla landed a brigade of marines for the purpose of keeping the trans-Isthmian railway open to commerce. Kimball, who was then attached to the flagship Tennessee, was ordered to aid McCalla and throughout the occupation was in command of an armored car, which had been constructed under his direction, and which did valuable work.

Before his assignment to the command of the Nicaraguan Expeditionary Force Admiral Kimball had been on duty in Washington as a member of the naval examining and retiring board and also as a member of the board on construction. Prior to the present service his last sea duty was in command of the battle-ship New Jersey.—[The World.

Seriously Injured.

Minnie Adams of Boston, formerly of East Dixfield, was seriously injured, and a companion, Bridget Walsh, was killed, as the result of a collision with an electric car.

Both women apparently ran into the side of an outward bound Chestnut Hill car, on Boylston street. The women apparently hurried toward their car, forgetful of the approach of the outward bound trolley. Then, it seems, they both ran into the passing car. They did not get in front of it, but they struck its side.

Both bodies rebounded with much force. The body of Bridget Walsh was thrown toward the sidewalk about five feet from the outer car rail. She was instantly killed. Minnie Adams received a still greater blow and was thrown forward diagonally about 15 feet and was terribly bruised. Miss Adams has a puncture wound in the head, her right leg is broken in two places and there are multiple bruises on the face and head. The hospital authorities give no hope of her recovery.

Miss Adams was born in East Dixfield 33 years ago and lived there until she was 20. She has lived in Boston about ten years.

Dr. Henry W. Miller, clinical director of the Government hospital at Washington, D. C., recently appointed superintendent of the Maine Insane hospital by the trustees of Insane hospitals of Maine, subject to the confirmation of the Governor and Council, has signified his acceptance, and will assume the duties of the office early in June.

WEST FRYEBURG.

As a Girl She Lived Here.

This neighborhood was saddened by the news of the death on April 21st, at her home in Bridgton, of Marion, wife of William Chandler and only daughter of James Alvin and Harriette Osgood (Wiley) Jones, at the age of 36 years.

Marion's early years were spent in the ancestral home of her father in this section, lately purchased by Frank Knox, where she endeared herself to friends and neigbors by her bright intelligence and sincere and agreeable traits of character.

Her success as a teacher is shown by her retention for several years in her own district, almost always a severe test in the case of a young teacher's experience. She resigned her teaching after a few terms following her marriage to devote her attention to the cares of the home, removing to Fryeburg Center with husband, where she spent some years previous to removal to Bridgton a few years ago.

Mrs. Chandler was one of the, so called, charter members of the Stirling Literary club and to her efforts much of the success of the club was due. She was an ardent lover of poetry and in fact everything good in literature and being unusually gifted as a reader and cheerfully willing to use her talent for the benefit of the club, many of her selections might even have gratified their authors in the rendering given. Her interest in the club was life long and her memory will be lovingly cherished by all its members.

Sunday, April 24th, Mrs. Chandler's remains were brought from Bridgton to Fryeburg Center for interment in the cemetery in Fish street. Bearers for the occasion were Elmer Walker, Willis Farrington, H. D. E. Hutchins and Fred Meserve, young men of this section. Members of the Stirling club in a body were present at the committal ceremony and contributed a group of pinks to the flowers that mantled the grave of a cherished friend.

The father and mother of whom Marion was the only child, the "apple of their eye" as it were, the loved husband and two bright boys old enough to miss the loving care of an indulgent mother are the survivors who will mourn and miss the dear companionship.

Wheat Cleaned Six Times

"The equipment for wheat cleansing is as extensive and expensive as that for grinding purposes. The freedom of flour from dirt and bacteria shows in its appearance."

PROF. WM. JAGO,
in National Association Review.

Wheat specially selected for William Tell Flour is stored in hermetically sealed tanks, at Ansted & Burk's big mills.

It is cleaned six times before grinding. Everything—even the sewing of the bags—is done by clean, bright machinery.

Note how much purer William Tell is than other flours. This means wheat cleaning by the most complete equipment known to modern milling science. William Tell Flour has the brilliant bloom such as only Ohio wheat can make.

Ask your dealer, and insist on having—

Sheriff's Sale of Equity of Redemption.
County of Oxford, ss. April 18, 1910.

Taken on execution, wherein L. R. Giles Company, a corporation duly organized and established under the laws of the State of Maine and having its place of business at Brownfield in said County, is judgment creditor and George A. Lord of said Brownfield is judgment debtor, and will be sold by public auction to the highest bidder therefor, on Saturday, the twenty-first day of May A. D., 1910, at ten o'clock in the forenoon, at the store of said L. R. Giles Company at East Brownfield village in said town of Brownfield, all the right in equity which the said George A. Lord has to redeem the following described mortgaged real estate, situated partly in said Brownfield and partly in Denmark in said County, with the buildings thereon, comprising the homestead of the said Lord, and embracing two parcels thus described, viz.: commencing on the west side of the highway leading from East Brownfield to West Denmark, at the foot of the hill, on the north line of land owned or occupied, now or formerly by Wm. M. Walker, thence running a northerly course by said Walker line and by line of lands now or formerly of the late Jacob and Jos. G. Swan, and by Eben Long and the Spring land, so called, to the highway above mentioned, thence by said highway, a southerly course, about one hundred and eighty rods, to the bound begun at, reserving the Witham lot, so called, of about one and one quarter acres; the other parcel commences on the east side of said highway, leading from East Brownfield to West Denmark, near the foot of a hill, at a juniper tree, being the northerly corner of land now or formerly of Emery Lord, thence running a southeasterly course on said Lord line about twenty rods to a stone post on line of land now or formerly of Wm. M. Walker, thence north, twenty-six degrees east, (in 1858), on line of said Walker land, to line of land now or formerly of Morris Clancy, thence a northerly course around said Clancy land to the south corner of the cemetery lot, thence a northwesterly course by said cemetery lot to said highway, thence a southerly course by said highway to the bound begun at.

Said real estate is subject to a mortgage given by said George A. Lord to Loring R. Giles, dated May 3, 1904, for about two hundred and forty-two dollars, which said mortgage is recorded in Oxford Western District Registry of Deeds in book 91, page 219. 16-18

WEST PARIS.

Daniel L. Day.

Daniel L. Day died at Jay Bridge recently after an illness of many months. Mr. Day was the oldest son of Daniel and Martha (Powers) Day, and was born in Woodstock in May, 1860. After finishing his education in the public schools he worked for several years as night operator at the G. T. R. station in this village, later receiving promotion to station at Falmouth. For several years he was station agent at Jay Bridge but failing health made it necessary for him to resign more than one year ago.

He married Ida Clark of Corinth, who died several years ago. His second wife, Lucy Strout of Mechanic Falls, and one son, Daniel Henry, survive him. He is also survived by his mother, Mrs. Henry B. Dunham, and four brothers, Alden, Quincy and Bert of this village and Alton, who lives on the old farm on Curtis Hill.

In politics he was a Republican, in religous belief a Universalist, and although not a member of that church those who knew his honesty and integrity and especially those friends of his early days who remember his thoughtfulness and kindness for so many years to his helpless invalid sister can say in the words of George McDonald, "Life and religion are one thing, or neither is anything."

His funeral was held from the First Universalist church Wednesday afternoon, Rev. Merrill C. Ward of Norway officiating.

The deceased was a member of West Paris I. O. O. F., Onward Rebekah lodge and F. & A. M. The Orders attended, the Masonic lodge performing the burial service. There were many beautiful flowers. The interment was beside his first wife in West Paris cemetery.

Library Association.

The West Paris Public Library association held its annual meeting Monday evening in Good Will hall. There was a good number out and the various reports gave a showing of prosperity as is manifest in the following account.

The library is soon to enter a new epoch in its history. It had been in existence only a few years and had been cared for by individuals at their homes until it found room in the post-office while the late George Bryant was postmaster. When he left Uncle Sam's employ the library was stored for a while for lack of an attendant.

In April 1898, soon after S. T. White went into business in the drug store on the corner of Main and Railroad streets, the library found space in his store and was again opened for the perusal of the public with Mrs. S. T. White as librarian. It then contained about 250 books with a debt of $30 upon it. During the next two or three years it was freed from its incumbrance.

At about this time Mr. and Mrs. L. C. Bates had returned from New Haven, Conn., to make this their permanent home and they became interested in the public library and donated 50 late books. At the same time they offered to give each year to the support of the library an amount equal to the sum of all the dollar subscriptions secured from the people of the place.

This was the beginning of prosperity for the library. Since then there has been a yearly income of from $15 to $65, until now they have about $275 in the treasury and about 700 books in the library.

Other friends have contributed books. One gift of 27 volumes came from the Hamlin Memorial Library from Paris Hill. A set of nine volumes, "The World, Its Cities and People," was received from Rev. I. S. Macduff, also the complete works of George Elliott in three volumes were given by W. H. Barker.

It has outgrown its present location and will soon be moved to the second floor in the new addition being built on the right of H. W. Dunham's building as soon as it is completed. Until then the books will be given to subscribers as in the past 12 years. Following are the officers for the coming year:

Pres.—Clarence G. Morton.
V. Pres.—Mrs. Elva E. Locke.
Sec.—Mrs. Mary L. Gerrish.
Treas.—Mrs. Annie W. Wheeler.
Trustees—Herman H. Wardwell, Lewis C. Bates, Edwin J. Mann.

The librarian remains the same until it is moved into new quarters, when it will be necessary to appoint another to this office.

A. S. Curtis of Rumford is visiting relatives here.

Al. Swift and family have moved into G. A. Smith's rent.

Annie Shank of Norway recently visited friends in town.

Dr. and Mrs. Wheeler recently visited friends in Portland.

Mrs. F. H. Hill is visiting her mother in Richardson Hollow.

Walter Cole has left railroad section work and retired to his home and farm work.

Mrs. Mary Gerrish has gone to Providence, R. I., to visit her sister, Mrs. J. L. Marshall.

Frank Mooney of Island Falls was here a few days first of the week visiting Mrs. Hattie B. Mooney.

Ernest Gammon and family of Bryant's Pond have moved into Hezekiah Farrar's rent on the first floor.

Rev. and Mrs. H. C. Young are moving to Gorham, N. H., where he was appointed pastor of the M. E. church.

The West Paris Creamery Association have leased their plant to H. P. Hood of Boston, Mass., who expects soon to occupy it and will take milk or cream from the farmers.

J. P. Cole, his mother and sister from Percy have come here to live and have moved into Mrs. Mooney's old house vacated by Mr. Swift.

Elinor H. Tuell is to be day operator and Clarence E. Stearns, night operator, in the new Curtis Hill telephone office, which is soon to be completed.

Dr. and Mrs. A. S. Thayer of Portland, Mr. and Mrs. O. A. Thayer of Paris and Silas Maxim of South Paris were present at the funeral of George W. Hammond.

There was a good house out to hear the drama last Wednesday evening at Dunham's Hall, which was well presented and highly enjoyed. The specialties were all encored.

Last week Wednesday morning the community were shocked when they heard that the cemetery had been desecrated to the amount of 76 stones pulled up and knocked over, some being badly chipped. Detective Bassett of Norway was summoned and found tracks indicating small boys who must have done the mischief, whereupon they were hunted down and two were found guilty by confession. A third one who was at first accused proved himself innocent but was so completely frightened that he was taken sick with a nervous attack that looked very serious for a while but he is now improving. The Graveyard Association have repaired the damage and at a hearing held Monday night at Centennial Hall the parents of the boys promised to foot the bills and the boys are on their good behavior.

CARD OF THANKS.

We, the undersigned, wish to express our heartfelt thanks to our neighbors and friends, who so kindly assisted us in our sorrow and death of our dear father, and for the beautiful floral tributes, and also to Rev. B. C. Wentworth for his comforting words.

MR. AND MRS. CHARLES E. ALLEN AND CHILDREN.

CARD OF THANKS.

Words utterly fail to express our gratitude for the kindness and sympathy shown us in our sorrow. We wish to thank Rev. Mr. Wentworth for his words of comfort, and Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Roberts and Thaddeus Roberts for their exceeding kindness and generosity in this hour of affliction, and the many neighbors and friends who so lovingly sent flowers, or in any way aided in trying to lighten our burden.
